

Earthjustice Senior Attorney Jan Hasselman, Dakota Access Pipeline hearing. Matt Roth for Earthjustice

Behind nearly every major environmental win, you'll find Earthjustice. We go to court to defend irreplaceable wildlands, protect clean air and water for all, and combat the climate crisis — and we represent our clients free of charge. We have environmentalists, scientists, policy experts, research analysts, and an outstanding team of 200+ lawyers ready to share their stories with you.

Facts

Earthjustice is the premier nonprofit public-interest environmental law organization. We wield the power of law and the strength of partnership to protect people's health, preserve magnificent places and wildlife, advance clean energy, and combat climate change. Here's a primer on who we are and what we do:

- Earthjustice was founded on the belief that everyone has the right to a healthy environment. We go to court to defend the planet and its people — and we win. See 50 of our landmark cases, or read about our most recent victories.
- Our 200+ full-time lawyers rank among the nation's foremost legal strategists for the environment.
- With research analysts, policy experts, scientists, and more, the teams at Earthjustice leverage unparalleled expertise — from our nation's highest court to our local public utility commissions.
- With 15 offices, Earthjustice's deep roots in key regions across the nation keep us connected to the people we serve and the places we protect.
- Since our founding in 1971, Earthjustice has served more than 1,000 public-interest clients, providing free, top-tier legal representation in their fight for justice.
